

My Two Cent's Worth

By: Joseph Andalina

Well, what can we expect in the New Year

My predictions: Not in any particular order

Republicans and Democrats will still hate each other.
The World will keep killing each other.
Obamacare isn't going anywhere.
Madigan and Rauner will not make up, hug, kiss, or get a budget.
Rauner will become richer.
Rauner will try to make Illinois great again.
Rauner will continue to lie.
Black men will be shot by police.
White men will be shot by police.
Asian, Arabic, and women will be shot by police.
They will all be bad.
Cops will be shot by bad people.
Your bosses (some) will tell you to do what you do, because the folks need us.
Chiefs may actually tell you the truth.
You will do your job, every day, with P.I.G.
MAP will continue to fight for you.
The Blackhawks will make the playoffs.
The Cubs will win the World Series. Actually — been there, done that.
It will be cold this winter.
Snowy, too.
It will be hot in the summer.
TV talking heads will nod those heads a lot, pretending they give a s—t.
O'Reilly will develop gas.
Megyn Kelly will get prettier.
MSNBC will whine and cry a lot.
Cops will get suspended, fired, or promoted.
Detectives and patrol will not get along.
I will continue to write stuff.
I will captivate you, titillate you, or make you swear out loud.
Chiefs will cringe as they read the Follies.
You will be a success.
You will stay safe.
You will come home to your family.
You will praise God and be grateful.
You will laugh and love a lot.
And remember:
Artificial Intelligence is not a match for stupidity.
Like the Reagan's said — they believe people would be alive if we had the death penalty. That makes sense? No, but I know what they mean.

Red, White and Blue stand for freedom, until they are flashing behind you!

Take my advice; I'm not using it.

Happy New Year
